

Personal Home Pages

Your account with Plainstel.com provides the option to purchase personal home page space. Plainstel.com will not routinely monitor the contents of your personal web page.

You are solely responsible for any information contained on your personal home page. However, if complaints are received regarding language, content or graphics contained on your personal home page, Plainstel.com may, at its sole discretion, remove the personal home page and terminate your personal home page service.

You may not use your personal home page space to publish material, which Plainstel.com determines, at its sole discretion, to be unlawful, indecent or objectionable. For purposes of this policy, "material" refers to all forms of communications including narrative descriptions, graphics (including photographs, illustrations, images, drawings and logos), executable programs, video recordings, and audio recordings.

Unlawful content is that which violates any law, statute, treaty, regulation, or lawful order. This includes, but is not limited to: obscene material; defamatory, fraudulent or deceptive statements; threatening, intimidating or harassing statements, or material, which violates the privacy rights or property rights of others (e.g., Copyright or Trademarks).

Indecent content is that which depicts sexual or excretory activities in a patently offensive matter as measured by contemporary community standards.

Objectionable content is otherwise legal content with which Plainstel.com concludes, in its sole discretion, it does not want to be associated in order to protect its reputation and brand image, or to protect its employees, shareholders and affiliates.

Examples of prohibited personal home page content:

- Materials, which depict or describe scantily-clad and lewdly depicted male and/or female forms or body parts, and which lack serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value.
- Materials, which suggest or depict obscene, indecent, vulgar, lewd or erotic behavior, and which lack serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value.

- Materials which hold Plainstel.com (including its affiliates, employees or members) up to public scorn or ridicule, or which unreasonably criticize the company, its employees or its products.
- Materials which encourages the commission of a crime; or which tends to incite violence; or which tends to degrade any person or group based on sex, nationality, religion, color, age, marital status, sexual orientation, disability or political affiliation.
